

SEA LION

Sea lions live in the ocean along the coast of North America. They hunt fish and octopus in the water and haul themselves onto land to rest and breed. When hunting a school of fish, the sea lions will work together to make sure everyone gets something to eat.

Sea lions have webbed feet that look like flippers and thick fur to keep them warm. They can walk on their hind feet; unlike seals who can only use their hind feet for swimming.